Foreword

Gulliver made a record of his travels among strange worlds in which he encountered men who towered above him like skyscrapers, and horses who were highly cultured. Our world, at Marshall, is strange and exciting, too. We are "Projectors", as busy as the Lilliputian nation, scurrying from class to class and then to after-school activities. To avoid appearing like Yahoos, we are developing the sense of the noble Houyhnhnms. We are gaining knowledge and experience to guide our flying islands. On the following pages is the record of our travels throughout the year. Its principal design, like Gulliver's, is "... to inform, and not to amuse". If, however, it is as successful as Gulliver's Travels, it will do both.

Dedication

We dedicate the 1955 John Quill
To the English department,
Whose instructors fulfill Guilliver's ideal,
That teaching should be
"Without passion, prejudice, or ill-will . . .
To the noblest end . . .
To inform and instruct mankind,
Without any view towards profit or praise."

ELMER W. SNYDER
PRINCIPAL

To His Loving Subjects

Why voyage to Lilliput, Brobdingnag, or the country of the Houyhnhnms, when we have Johnmarshall-land, almost as mysterious, and always filled with marvelous adventure? The world's work is done in large measure by the little people in our universe. Take away the multitude of pygmies and this world, this school, would become a dreary place. Team play would have no part in our existence and the enthusiasm created by the many would be absent.

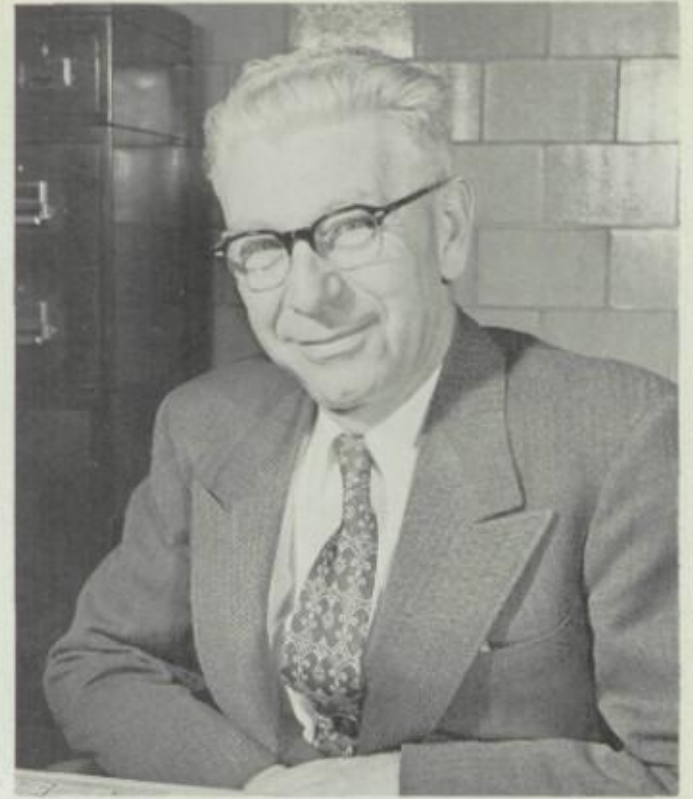

When you seniors leaf through this book, and note the record of your years in Marshall-land, you should feel a pride and youthful vigor akin to the man-mountain Gulliver among the Lilliputians.

But when you return to the outside world from Marshall-land and become swallowed up by the gigantic inhabitants of Brobdingnag, you should gain reassurance by reading again this chronicle of your high school days.

Advice

Classwork

Language

This year the language department consigned much time emphasizing the speaking and comprehension of French and Spanish. Films and recordings dialogued in these languages were used to aid them.

The Latin students gained knowledge of the culture and ways of life of the Romans, the relationship between Latin and English, and the values of Latin.

"Extracting Sunbeams"

Science

The aim of the science department was to help students understand the world in which they live. This was achieved in the instruction of eighth and ninth grade general science, biology, chemistry, physics, and earth science.

English

The English Department this year was faced with a three-fold task. The first one was to teach the students to speak effectively; the second, to teach the students to listen attentively, and the third to teach the students to write clearly. Another of the English teachers' important jobs was to teach students to use their own language fluently.

Another member of the English "family" is the Radio Workshop whose basic aim is to teach the medium of radio to students who are interested.

Social Studies

Included in the curriculum of the social studies department were the history, geography, and economics of the United States and the rest of the world. This work is very necessary as it acquaints the student with his forefathers and their work, makes him aware of current events and their importance, and prepares him for a useful and active part in the world of tomorrow.

E. S. Eike

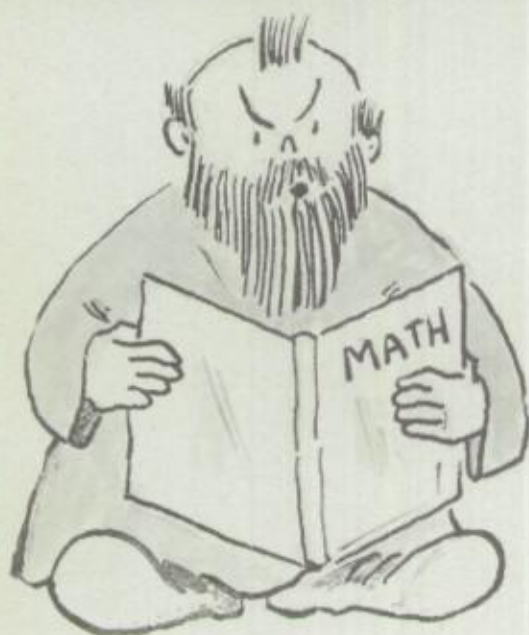

Seated: Elton Eike, Kenneth Fulkerson, Frank Leach. Standing: Edwin Gordon, Charles Meder, Joseph Carol, Sanford Zeman.

The Math Department

All branches of mathematics, from Eighth grade math to the advanced courses of solid geometry and trigonometry were taught in the math classes this year! This training not only developed subject matter, but trained the pupils in the art of clear thinking.

Charles Pflaum

Seated: Eleanor Riegel, Edith Olmstead. Standing: Paul Epping, Charles Pflaum, Monroe Lord. Missing: Joseph Conroy.

Business Department

The business department provided excellent opportunities for students to learn and develop skill in office practice and other related business subjects, which are useful not only in the commercial world, but also in everyday life. This year, special classes were held after school for those students who wished to take typing for their own personal use, but were unable to because of their crowded schedule.

Fine Arts Department

John Marshall High School had much to offer this year in the field of fine arts.

The Music Department's choral group appeared several times in the assembly. They also appeared on the program of the Highland Park Lilac Festival.

The Art Department contributed a good deal of fine work to the annual Scholastic Art Exhibit. Tom Kass took top honors by winning three gold key awards, while Meryl Galen, Dick Sturm, and Sally Michael, along with others, each took one award.

Harold Singleton, Laura Remington, Roy Thrall, Jane Feuerherm. Insert: Joseph Melka.

Practical Arts

The Practical Arts Department offered a variety of classes in mechanical drawing, craft, metals, woodworking, and home economics. The department was concerned primarily with teaching the students the fundamental principles involved in the use of machines in Industrial Arts.

John Marshall had excellent representation in several contests held this year, the Scholastic Arts Exhibit and the Industrial Arts Awards sponsored by the Ford Motor Company.

In home economics students learned the everyday essentials of homelife.

Physical Education Department

The program provided by the physical education department provided many opportunities for boys and girls to learn the fundamentals of all sports including tumbling, apparatus, and wrestling. The intramural program offered varied activities, such as homeroom basketball, ping-pong, and swimming. This department was one of the few in New York State to have sixteen different interscholastic teams entered in competition in one year.

Senior Problems

"The Rough Work"

This six-week course was divided into three parts: college and job orientation, economics, and mathematics. College and job orientation reviewed briefly how to take notes during a lecture, how to fill out a college application form, and how to select a suitable college. The costs, sizes, and student jobs available were some of the topics discussed. Outside speakers were brought in and the boys in both college and job orientation heard speakers talk on military service.

Economics included the review of stocks and bonds and insurance of all kinds.

Mathematics included home ownership, mortgages, ways of borrowing money, types of interest, and the filling out of both State and Federal Income Tax forms.

Treasury Department

The school's finances were handled by a member of the faculty with student help. The elected student treasurer, Barbara Cote, was responsible for the daily bank deposits. Several student bookkeepers helped in recording, posting, and preparation of statements and reports.

Our income this year was from profits on school dances, plays, the bookstore, sports, and the S. A. campaign. This money was spent for non-profit activities such as mixers and the senior tea, and for the purchase of band and cheerleader's uniforms, awards, and equipment not provided for by the Board of Education. Thousands of dollars were handled by this department, so extreme accuracy and responsibility were necessary, and were shown by all those students who helped.

Executive Council

The Executive Council was a functioning link between the student body and the faculty, endeavoring to promote our school and enhance our days at Marshall. Membership consisted of activity representatives, class representatives, and officers of the Council. Some results of legislation passed by this body are the Halloween Hop, Snow Ball, Student Athletic pass, Student's Day, and a new amplification and speaker system.

The National Honor Society

Again this year the National Honor Society tried to uphold the scholastic standards of John Marshall. The members of this organization were chosen for their achievements as students and leaders. The officers of the society for this year were president, George Higgins, and secretary, Marjorie Heberger. The faculty adviser was Mrs. Barden.

The Scholarship Commission

The Scholarship Commission, which is composed of the ten seniors with the highest rating in their class, strove to maintain a high level of scholarship in the student body. The Commission met regularly to work on report card ratings and to mark Honor Roll and Honorable Mention on the report cards. This year the Commission planned Student Day on which students took over the teaching and administrative jobs in the school.

The Legislature

The Legislature is the law making body of our representative government at John Marshall. It is composed of an elected representative and alternate from each homeroom. This year under the capable guidance of Miss Turula and Mr. Goetz, the group took an active part in the work and activities of the school. Chuck Weaver, Vice President of our Students' Association, presided over the meetings which were held periodically throughout the year.

Numerous responsibilities that belonged to each representative included reporting to various homerooms the program and progress and of the legislature. Also the legislative body played an important part in the success of the Red Cross Drive, the March of Dimes Drive, and the Memorial Scholarship Drive. Their other activities were the promotion of John Quill Sales and the Student Association Campaign.

Mr. Conroy, with the assistance of rating clerks chosen from each homeroom, computed the ratings of each student by a new simplified method. This new rating system made it easier for all to find their ratings. The rating clerks then found the medians and reported the five highest students of each homeroom to the homeroom teachers. These reports were later turned in to Mr. Conroy, the faculty adviser.

Banking Clerks

"The Lord High Treasures"

The school savings program was provided to help students practice the habit of thrift by regular savings. About 175 students banked each week. Over the year the amount deposited added up to several thousand dollars. The work of banking was carried on by forty homeroom banking clerks, and eight tellers in the banking office. Mr. Pfaum was faculty adviser.

MISS BITZ

The curtain rose many times this past year to display the varied talents of our theater-minded students. Under the guidance of Miss Bitz, the students not only studied the structure of plays, acting, and play production, but also worked on and improved facial expression, voice and diction, and the basic fundamentals of make-up. Putting these elements together, the young thespians presented for the enjoyment of all, "Sugar and Spice," "All on a summer's day," "Confessional," "Call Me Mac," and "Christmas Fantasy." The combined efforts of the class helped all Marshallites to know and appreciate the theater.

Radio Workshop

We have been very fortunate to have a Radio Workshop at Marshall. Under the expert direction of Mrs. Saunders many students have gained valuable radio experience.

During the past year the workshop served as an informer on current events, socials, and sports, and it also played an important part in creating interest for the various school activities. In addition the workshop presented several dramas for the enjoyment of the English classes.

The men behind the scenes were Dick Donovan, Station Manager; Bill Hicks, Assistant Manager; Barb Montenaro, Secretary; and Jack Coers at the controls.

Senior Band

The John Marshall Senior Band highlighted school concerts, football games, and holiday assemblies. The colorful uniforms, precision marching, and skillful performance of this group brought praise to them and their conductor, Roy Thrall. Various band members gained experience as conductors. A record featuring the Marshall band playing two famous marches was made available to students as a lasting memento of its fine music.

Junior Band

The Junior Band, conducted by Mr. Thrall and student conductor, Ronnie Case, progressed rapidly this year. They played for the 8th and 9th grade mixer and for several assemblies. These activities plus a keen spirit of teamwork and individual competition for promotion, gave the Junior Band valuable experience towards membership in the Senior Band.

The officers were president, John Ainsworth; vice-president, Mike Groth; secretary-treasurer, Ronald Case, and uniforms, Gene Schultz.

Stage Door

The Ferber-Kaufman hit, Stage Door, was chosen by the Masqueteers of 1955 for their season's production. The enthusiasm of the seniors was shown from the early try-outs, when ninety students responded, right through the final performance. The cast of thirty-two worked with the stage crew, property man, script girls, wardrobe mistress, and make-up girls for two months to produce an evening's entertainment for Marshallites and friends.

Baseball

John Marshall's 1954 baseball team captured the city championship before finally bowing in the Sectional finals to a fine Batavia team. Actually, the team tied for first place with Madison but won the right to represent Rochester in the Sectionals by defeating Madison in a special playoff game. Marshall had many individual heroes, four of whom were honored by being selected to the All-Scholastic baseball team: Outfielder, Chuck Weaver; shortstop, Larry Sklenar; catcher, Bill VanDyke; and pitcher, Don Axon; all received first team berths. Infielders, Bobby Dean and Stuie Patton, plus pitcher, Floyd "Junior" Grimes received honorable mention. The brilliant hurling of Axon, the great team spirit and aggressiveness of VanDyke, the fine batting and short fielding of Sklenar, and the tremendous clutch and power hitting of Weaver helped to make Coach Bushnell's 1954 baseball team one of the finest in Marshall's history.

Basketball

The 1954-55 season proved a banner year for the Marshall Hoopsters. The boys finished the first half with a 4-4 record, but in the second half it was improved to a 5-3 ledger.

Highlights of the schedule were a come-from-behind 42-37 triumph over Charlotte, and a 61-40 massacre of Jefferson after the Statesmen had ruined our chances for a Sectional berth with a 51-50 upset win.

Larry Sklenar was the team's high scorer with 243 points, including a record-smashing 34 against Franklin. Bill Hicks was second with 174, and was the team's top rebounder. Bobby Dean and Chuck Weaver supplied the outside strength, while Gary Niedermeier gave Hicks able assistance under the boards. Bill Carr was the team's defensive stalwart as he continually held the opposition's top scorers in check.

The football team, under the able leadership of Coach Davis and his assistants, Roy Thrall and Ted Gauglin, had a successful season. The team in a surprise move beat the highly favored Jefferson team, 19-13. The boys honored from our team were Doug Van Putte, Arnie Pommerening, and Bob Noonan. The captains were Bill Heineman, Doug Van Putte, George Schudel, Arnie Pommerening, Ronnie Osborne, Melvin Menarik, Dick Smith, and Tony Grotto.

Soccer 1954

Under the able guidance of Coach Gerace the John Marshall pitchmen had a successful season with a record in city competition of four wins, three ties, and one loss. The one loss was to the high rated East team. After completing the league season, the booters moved into the quarter finals of Section V championship play where they lost to a determined Wayne Central team 4-0. Co-captains Dick Sturm and Larry Higbee, along with John Turpin and Al Wheeler were standouts in city and sectional play. Guarding the nets for the team were Bill Hicks and Gary Niedermeier who aided greatly in John Marshall's success.

Cross Country 1954

This year the cross country team under their new coach, Mr. Carol, finished with a record of two wins against three setbacks. Hoping to repeat their sectional win of last year they ran a strong fifth in this fourteen team Meet. Pacing the field of 108 was Ronnie Hauck who blazed home with a time of 12:08 for the 2.4 mile course. Aiding the Jurists' cause was Dave Jacox who finished in ninth position. Others finishing in order were Chuck Wenzel, Bob Cairns, Kevin Considine, Mike Walsh, and Dave Crellin. Coach Carol should be commended for the showing his team made in the sectionals.

Track

The John Marshall track team suffered several defeats during the year ending up the season with a 1-7 record. This record does not indicate the hard work and long hours the boys spent training for their meets. Two consistent winners on the track team were Wesley Baumberger in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Doug Van Putte in the half mile. The Jurists' only win came when they thumped Jefferson 62-31. With most of last year's track team returning, and with Coach Davis at the helm, the Jurists should show decided improvement over this spring.

Wrestling 1955

Under the splendid tutelage of Coach Davis, the Marshall wrestling team ended the 1955 grunt and groan campaign with several individual standouts.

Outstanding for the Jurists were Mel Minarik, Doug Van Putte, and Don Haefele. Bill Heineman, Sonny Pfeiffer, Bobby Noonan, and George Schudell also gave a good account of themselves.

Tennis

The John Marshall tennis team posted a record of two wins, two losses, and two draws in the 1954 spring season under the guidance of Mr. Carol, their coach. John Miller, Gary Niedermeier, Dave Thorne playing singles, and Wayne Statt and Tom Saltzman teamed up for doubles; all did very well considering the limited amount of practice they were able to get. John Miller made an unsuccessful attempt at the city championship in singles, and Wayne and Tom were beaten in their try for city doubles championship.

Swimming 1955

John Marshall's 1955 swimming team splashed to an impressive four wins in a colorful and spirited display.

Coach Tony Gerace relied heavily on Dick Davis, 100 yard breaststroke; Bill Butler, 100 yard backstroke, and Fred Stegeman, 150 yard individual medley.

These boys formed the nucleus of the squad, and along with diver Dave Ralston, scored most of the Jurists' points.

Friend.

I guess you found this came if you hadn't you wouldn't be reading it. I don't know if I should bother wishing you success - for I am sure you will find it. But, I guess for old times sake I will. Anyhow, I won't write about the good times we've had for I couldn't get them on this page or even in this book. To make a long story longer. I will say that ~~you and~~ we are going to have to keep in touch next year. You are going to have to keep me informed on what is going on and who is doing what. To be sincere for a change I hope that best of everything is yours always. Be good and stay happy..... if you can't.... well, anyhow, stay happy. Best wishes always your Buddy
Bill Butler
